$5000 Udall Scholarship

The Udall Scholarship recognizes Native American and Alaska Native undergraduates with the commitment and potential to make significant contributions to tribal public policy or Native American health care.

"This scholarship says to me that someone outside my tribe, outside my nation, is saying: 'we see what you are doing and we see that it is important therefore we want to help you the best way we know how'." Autumn E Mitchell, Saginaw Chippewa Indian Tribe of Michigan, 2008 Scholar
